

NOTA DE PRENSA

CZ VETERINARIA has successfully completed the Mutual Recognition Procedure (MRP) for the diagnostic test product CZV Bovine Tuberculin PPD .

Porriño, Pontevedra – 9th September, 2011 – CZ Veterinaria (CZV) today announce the successful completion of the European Mutual Recognition Procedure (MRP) for CZV Bovine Tuberculin PPD, diagnostic test for TB control. Therefore Marketing Authorisations have been granted in the countries of the European Union which have been requested by CZV: Germany, France, UK, Ireland, Portugal, Greece, Hungary, Belgium, and Poland.

CZV Bovine Tuberculin PPD is a diagnostic test for tuberculosis measuring the immune response to an intradermal injection of tuberculin in cattle. CZV Bovine Tuberculin PPD is available in 10x50 and 25x50 doses.

The Mycobacteria Plant of CZV is the largest in the world and more than 100 million doses of bovine and avian tuberculin as well as vaccines against Johne's disease are produced per year. CZV is a world leader in the production of mycobacteria.

About CZ VETERINARIA

CZ Veterinaria, SA (CZV) is a biopharmaceutical company that is dedicated exclusively to the development and manufacture of veterinary products and medicines and one of the foremost biotechnology companies in the European Union. CZV has a strong presence across 60 countries.

CZV together with Biofabri –its subsidiary dedicated to human health industry- form a 100% Spanish business group that specialise in Biotechnology products.

CZV also manufactures under contract (Contract Manufacturing) of veterinary products and vaccines for third party companies and official bodies.

The company is located in Porriño (Pontevedra) where its productions facilities, biotech labs, offices and warehouses in a construction area of 10,100 m² on a total area of 43,000 m².

www.czveterinaria.com

For further information please contact:
Corporate Communications: b.diaz@czveterinaria.com